The most sought-after grandstands in Las Vegas are those of the East Harmon Zone. The area comprises the start /finish line and the first four corners.

Grandstand offers fans the best seats in the house for views of the grid. It's likely to be where the top 3 are interviewed after qualifying on Friday. On Saturday, it's the ideal spot to watch teams and drivers as they ready their cars and themselves for the race. After lights out, it's always thrilling to see 20 F1 cars pile into the first corner at a Grand Prix, and no doubt Las Vegas' tight turn one will be no exception.
